DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Walford (US 3877254).

Walford (US 3877254) teaches the invention as claimed including a knitted fabric (Fig 5) with loops which are formed from yarn material containing staple fibers (15), the yarn material contains a continuous fiber web in which the staple fibers are disposed untwisted and essentially parallel to each other. Note that is formed exclusively from the fiber web. Note that he fibers are untwisted asset forth in column 9, paragraph 1.

Claims 1-11, 14, 16, 18, 21-23, 26-29 and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by British patent document 1538924.

British patent document 1538924 teaches the invention as claimed including a knitted fabric (Fig 16-19) with loops which are formed from yarn material containing staple fibers (212), the yarn material contains a continuous fiber web in which the staple fibers are disposed untwisted and essentially parallel to each other. British patent document 1538924 also sets forth the method of the yarn material exiting from the drawing equipment and spun into a yarn with al twists transported to a knitting point on a knitting machine and then, before it is processed into loops, is changed back into an untwisted fiber web by the false twist effect. Also a knitting machine provided with knitting needles and at least one knitting point for processing a yarn material supplied to it into loops and a mechanism for supplying the yarn material in that the mechanism contains drawing equipment for producing the yarn material.
